velowestnormandy.com

Leaving from Bayeux or Carentan, the VéloWestNormandy offers a cycling break with a direct go & return by train.

In just 186 or 211km, depending on your departure point, it will give you a real taste of Normandy. 3 introductions to the historical sites of Utah, Omaha or Gold Beach at just a few miles away from Bayeux or Carentan also give the opportunity to discover the landing beaches before making your way to the equally emblematic Mont Saint-Michel. Keeping to cycle paths and quiet country roads, the route is accessible to everyone. It takes cyclists through typical Normandy landscapes culminating with a spectacular arrival at the Mont Saint-Michel. With its train & bike concept, the VéloWestNormandy is a practical and ecological getaway sure to appeal to all fans of slow tourism.

DEPARTURES

Utah Beach

On 6 June 1944, 836 000 American troops landed on this beach. Today, numerous monuments commemorate these historic hours. The D-Day Museum retraces the events of this military exploit.

Omaha Beach

World-renowned for being the site of one of the Normandy landings on June 6, 1944, this essential memorial site is home to the American military cemetery and numerous museums. Today, this beach is also an ideal place for a seaside break in a peaceful, unspoiled setting.

Gold Beach

Two significant feats of Second World War military engineering can be seen in the British sector of Gold Beach: the German artillery battery of Longues-sur-Mer, part of the Atlantic wall coastal fortifications and still intact, and the artificial harbour at Arromanches, the only visible remains of the Allied landings.

Carentan

At the heart of the marshland, discover Carentan and its medieval centre. Admire the remarkable heritage as you amble around the town: church, wash house, former convent... A 3km-long walking trail circling the canal leaves from the marina.

Bayeux

A jewel in the medieval Normandy, Bayeux was spared from the 1944 bombings. The town has kept a number of treasures, most notably The Cathedral Notre Dame and the UNESCO listed Bayeux Tapestry (reopening of the museum in Fall 2027).

ON THE WAY

Saint-Lô

The “Saint-Lô” destination benefits from an ideal location to recharge your batteries through marshes, forests, bocage and the Vire valley. From the top of the only medieval ramparts of the Manche department, Saint-Lô experienced a beautiful rebirth after the bombings of 1944.

Les Roches de Ham

Rising 100 meters above sea level, the siliceous Roches de Ham escarpment overlooks the Vire Valley and the river winding its way through the Saint-Lô countryside.

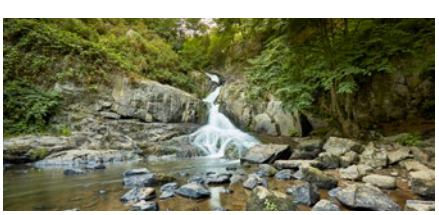

Le Viaduc de la Souleuvre

Built according to Eiffel’s blueprints, in the Souleuvre Valley, its outdoor activity centre has something for everyone:bungee jumping (61m), giant zipline and swing, pendulum jump, toboggan run, adventure trails, barefoot garden, etc.

Vire Normandie

Destroyed during the Second World War at 95%, the city is a good example of the reconstruction after 2nd WW and keep some remains of the Middle Ages. Renowned for its real andouille sausage, Vire is the headquarters of the Guy Degrenne tableware factory and Coeur de Lion dairy products, Compagnie des Fromages and Richemonts.

Mortain-Bocage

Quiet and rejuvenating place for a refreshing break on the way. La grande cascade is the largest waterfall in northwestern France. About twenty meters high, it allows the waters of the Cance to flow. The small waterfall, nestled in a green canyon, dug by the Cançon, is a succession of waterfalls..

ARRIVAL

Le Mont Saint-Michel

An unmistakable silhouette overlooks a bay boasting an extraordinary biodiversity: the Mont Saint-Michel. Contained within the walls of this thousand-yearold pilgrimage site is an abbey with its majestic Merveille cloister!

Useful information

The different services and providers featured have been chosen for the quality of the services provided to cyclists. In no way does it provide a comprehensive list. As a priority, it aims to meet the expectations of a clientele of individual or group, organizing their stay on the itinerary alone or via operators.

TECHNICALS INFORMATIONS

3 introductions to the historicals sites of the D-Day Landing Beaches

GOLD
24 km

A 24km loops in the British sector of Gold Beach to discover the history of military engineering during the Second World War. Passage by the German battery of Longues-sur-Mer to see its original guns, its 4 casemates still intact and the firing command post. Following up with Arromanches to see the remains of Mulberry B, an artificial harbor built in England according to Winston Churchill's plans and installed in the days following June 6, 1944.

Bayeux — Arromanches-les-Bains — Bayeux
12,7 km — 11,3 km
Aller-retour à la batterie allemande
+3 km

OMAHA
39 km

A beautiful ride alternating greenways and small country roads to reach the American cemetery which contains the graves of 9,387 soldiers killed during the Normandy Campaign and Omaha Beach. Passage through Port-en-Bessin, oil port during 2nd World War, today the first fishing artisanal port in Normandy, specialized in scallops.

Bayeux — Colleville-sur-Mer — Port-en-Bessin — Bayeux
18,1 km — 11,3 km — 9,6 km

UTAH
49 km

Remains bear witness to the German constructions of the Atlantic Wall on this landing beach in the American sector. The "Utah" mission was also preceded by an airborne landing in the Cotentin marshes, around Sainte-Mère-Eglise and Carentan. Many museums and tours offer testimonies of these operations and recount the journey of American soldiers who came to liberate Europe on June 6, 1944.

Carentan — Utah Beach — Ste-Mère-Église — Carentan
23,5 km — 9 km — 15,6 km
